"The Stern lineage and Heisenberg monoblocks push the bar to previously unattainable levels!" says THE ABSOLUTE SOUND.

Greg Weaver, Senior Writer, and one of the most respected voices in the industry: "These devices represent a new benchmark. Wait until you get an earful. It is SO clearly apparent what a paradigm shift they deliver, that you will understand immediately...I'm a total Audionet convert!"

"Museum quality!" says leading British magazine's Chris Martens.

HiFi+: "The bottom line is that Stern and Heisenberg have, in my opinion, raised the performance bar for high-end audio electronics, and I say this having heard top-tier components from Audio Research, Constellation, Dan D'Agostino Master Audio System, Naim Audio, Pass Labs, Soulution, and others. They also serve admirably as audio objets d'arts that are, in a very literal sense, of museum quality."

A review by sister mag i-fidelity.net can be found here, Philip Cornelius sums it up: "Nobel Prize Winners." That's right, Phil.

Positive Feedback: "A mountaintop!!"

We even made the cover of the celebrated U.S. magazine.

Positive Feedback's Dr. David Robinson says: "...new visions of possibilities in the audio arts. ...A rare system that actually put me into a waking dream state...trance-like." Find Marshall Nack's full article here:
